

The image shows a document page with a light gray background. At the top, there are two horizontal lines. In the center, there is a large rectangular box containing the equation $E = mc^2$. Below this box, there is a single horizontal line. At the bottom center, the number '1' is displayed. The top right corner of the page is folded over, showing a white underside.

$$E = mc^2$$